

Jane Slatter

“I see my role as a coach to be one where I listen, facilitate your thinking and ideas while challenging & supporting you in equal amounts. I try to bring pragmatism, practicality and action orientation to our coaching conversations to enable you to find your own solutions.”

Jane is one of Chiumento’s experienced coaches and facilitators. She has coached and facilitated at leadership events throughout Europe and the Middle East and worked alongside Board Directors, CEO’s, directors and senior Managers.

Experience

Jane works with a range of senior leaders to get them to tap into their potential and meet their challenges through leadership programmes and executive coaching. As a Coach, Facilitator and Leadership Consultant, she has considerable commercial understanding having worked as a member of a number of management teams in FTSE 100 companies in senior roles, together with significant international experience and particular expertise in developing and managing organisational design and business transformation. She has worked with leaders in the following ways:

- Acted as coach and facilitator to several intensive residential Senior Management Leadership programmes in the telecoms/media sector
- Acted as an observer/coach at Board meetings to assist in improving team dynamics
- Designed and delivered workshops on vision, values and managing change with senior management teams in FTSE 100’s
- Worked extensively throughout Europe and Africa to redefine a European wide talent strategy with a number of divisions within a global business.
- Worked with a leadership team to introduce company-wide cultural change to reshape and transform an organisation to achieve wide ranging organisational change and improved financial performance
- Facilitated as an assessor/coach at senior management assessment/development centres

Some of the areas Jane seeks to work with individuals and teams in the coaching arena are:

- Improving self awareness, Leadership style and impact on others
- Realising full potential in their careers
- Leading and managing significant/complex change
- Developing resilience and managing stress
- Communicating and building relationships with others

Jane is married to Paul and they live in Berkshire with their daughters Emily and Amy. Jane is a voluntary Non Executive Director of Age Concern for Slough and Berkshire East.
